Seru banget ni game. I love this, gfx are done well, reminds me of an old arcade shooter, except you in space, no floor, and remote controlling a fighter ship.. As someone who has followed the game ever since it was shown off as a prototype, and who caved and bought it very early into Early Access, I have yet to regret my purchase.

Updates are constant and deliver both on the developers' promises and the players' wishes/suggestions, and the game only gets better with time.

The asking 20$ price is reasonable for the game in its' current state, and you are going to get hours of enjoyment out of it - if you enjoy tycoon games or cooking simulations, that is.

And if you ever have a complaint/bug/suggestion, the developers' team is very active on their official Discord, and replies to pretty much anyone who has something to say. Haven't seen such good player/developer interaction in a long time.

I thoroughly recommend this game to anyone who has some experience with tycoon, likes cooking and isn't afraid of trial and error. And if you're still skeptical, come back when it's fully released and I'm sure the final product will be even better, and still worth the money.. Too buggy to play.. Great game, Great art, Great price

Great Gr8 Great. Conjuror's Eye has some MAJOR problems. For the price, it's worth picking up, though. It's a decent puzzle game with innovative concepts. Puzzle gamers will enjoy it - assuming they can avoid motion sickness and handle the poorly calibrated controls.

TL;DR - Worth the cheap price, but needs some major updates.

1) No teleportative motion.

You're trapped inside a cube, so you wouldn't think you'd need to move around, but the lack of teleportative motion means that if you're not careful, you're in for a pukefest.

2) No options.

The game doesn't allow you to adjust sound or lighting (or choose teleportative motion). I actually wasn't able to see a lot of the graphics because the game defaults to a very, very dark interior (on the Vive) despite the screenshots showing a much brighter and visible room.

3) Controls are wonky.

The control concept is genius - spread your hands to enlarge, compress them to shrink. But instead of pointing at objects with your finger, you have to point at them with your palm. Then, the shrink/grow sizing is not one-to-one, and capped by the software. So instead of sizing something exactly, you're struggling to get objects JUST the right size for the puzzle.

4) Puzzle timers are unforgiving.

Problem one here is the puzzle timer starts even before you're able to interact with the room. Problem two is the timers are unforgiving even then, making the game nigh impossible for kids. Couple that with slow stage-swaps (while the room is still shrinking) , and the game is less "fun" than it is a "chore."

For $1, the game has potential.. I loved this game! It's not perfect, but it was unique and interesting. I got way more invested in the story than I expected.. There's no game I want more on VR than a proper hockey simulator. And by that, I really mean a hockey goalie simulator. And while "Goalie Challenge VR" is a lot of fun, it doesn't scratch that urge of being a part of a full game of hockey. I want to watch plays develop, stop breakaways, and be an integral part of a full game from start to finish. The latest update for this game attempts to do that, but it does so poorly.

You can tell exactly what this game is just by watching the video on the store page. The physics are wonky, the sounds are monotonous, and the gameplay is just silly. Being a player is nauseating, unrewarding, and it's impossible to see where the puck is and where it is going as a goalie. I understand that with the limitations of the current technology (i.e. no leg/body tracking) it's challenging to make anything close to a realistic sports game, but this is not the solution.

That said, I do appreciate what the developer is trying to do. It's unfortunate that this is the only full hockey game VR experience, but someone had to start somewhere. I think that the developer is being too ambitious with his limited resources. If he starts from scratch and focuses on just one aspect of hockey (like Goalie Challenge VR), I believe he can create a more complete and fun experience.

In its current state, I cannot recommend "Skills Hockey VR." I hope that he will continue developing this game, and I look forward to seeing a better product in the future.. What a hidden gem. This game has some absolutely astonishing music, charming graphics and writing, interesting characters and designs, and although it tends to be pretty standard early on in terms of mechanics, it has a lot of depth in tactical choice. This would have been a frickin' hit on the SNES years back. Definitely worth your money.. I put this game in the "Education" part of my resume when I applied as a Surgeon. They must've thought I was overqualified. 10/10 for real-life applicable medical skills.

Full of my childhood memories!

Putt-Putt goes to the moon definatly the best episode of the series!

10V10. I wanted to like the game. I think it looks gorgeous, and while the premise is a bit silly, it wasn't that big of a deal. But oh man the controls. Maybe they work on mobile, but certainly something better could have been done when porting it to PC. I'd steer clear of it solely because of the controls.. Just like most Reviewers they wished they had a "Meh" Button, and so do I. This game wasnt complete♥♥♥♥♥but it's pretty meh.

Seriously, This game is complete mediocre and who would want to waste their money on this? People like me who want to waste their money on garbage games and review them for you lovely people.

Pros:

- It's $1.09 so it's reasonable for the price to where it should be. So you arn't wasting too much money. (Unlike Masked Shooters 2 with their stupid over $5.00 price)
- The one guy is carrying a M4 Carbine, I approve. (Don't judge me >:C)

Cons:

-It's a point and click game, Those arn't very fun to me.

- The hitboxes are just awful.. Sometimes it's hard to click the zombie's head on the side of the screen without a miss. And if you're lucky. He wont be close enough to eat you alive to only then make you scream in rage and make you rage quit. It also dosent help when you have the game on Windowed Mode and you accidently tab out, making it much worst for you to click back and worry about your characters not being overrun.

- It's one of those kind of games where if you can't see♥♥♥♥♥in the dark, you're gonna have a hard time looking for that specific item, And hitting the hint button clearly shows where that one spot is if you dont have the brightness on high, and you cant even adjust your brightness, Thanks game for making me regret I don't have nightvision on

- The music is eh... I didn't really expect much for this game to have decent music. It's just regular music you hear in Facebook games with the exact same setting as this. So it's nothing new

- What the hell is with the "W" being rotated side ways? that looks really weird and there's too much of it.

- You only go so far only to then get stuck at the one part where you have to find Ammo and there's this one ammo that you can't even grab even tho the hint shows you completly where it is. to the point where you just leave cause of how terrible they program this game.

- The zombies going up in your face in the main menu kind of scares me, Maybe cause of how creepy that is to have random zombies up in your face while you're trying to hit play. Makes my skin crawl just looking at it

- The animations.. oh dear lord... They cant animate for♥♥♥♥♥

- You know what's great about most games? The fact it has stories in them. This game has NO story whatsoever, Yeah. You're escaping the Apocalypse, And grabbing gears and driving and shooting, praying to god you will survive. That's pretty much what you do. But it isnt REALLY a story. It feels more like an objective. Though I shoudln't really complain, This is like a Facebook game.. Most Facebook games dont.

But again, This game isnt the worst of them all, It's still bad. But when it comes to seeing how many problems there are with the game, you can easily list alot of the problems.. You control sperm fighting its way to Conception.

Beacuse why not.. Assault May Spy. This is by far one of the best Choice of Games titles I've come across. The story was gripping and it felt like every choice seriously mattered. My only regret was having waited so long to play through it. I seriously hope that there is a follow-up to this. An easy 10/10.
